BULLDOG

Volume 17 Published by Fairdale High School 1001 Fairdale Road Fairdale, Kentucky A yearbook is not really for now, although its publication and arrival are eagerly awaited by the student body. A yearbook is for years from now, when the happenings of this year are nothing more than shadows of the things that were. Turning pages one by one, reading the autographs of often long-forgotten friends brings a smile of remembrance, a frown of regret as photos put a fine edge on those shadowy memories.

The 1976 BULLDOG has as its purpose the recording of the extraordinary occurrences of this past year and objectively presenting these occurrences as they happened. Its special duty is the preservation of these memories for the class of 1976 which has the unique distinction of graduating in the year of the United States' Bicentennial celebration.

To Peggie Lyons . . .

. . . a stranger to few of us, she began teaching at Fairdale the year we were seventh graders;

 a teacher of many of us, she has interested us in a wide variety of English subjects;

 a friend to all of us, she has given freely of her time both in and out of school to make this a memorable year for the class of 1976.

At seven months in Montrose,
California... already a bulldog lover at four in Kettering, Ohio... a HAOLE fourth-grader at St. Anthony School in Honolulu, Hawaii... a sophomore at Kuba Saki Dependent High School,
Naha, Okinawa.

Students boycott but teachers still have papers to grade . . . at Oxmoor with the Senior Favorites . . . with Dennis Priddy, one of many friends among the senior class . . . Mrs. Lyons and her "natural."

It is with gratitude, appreciation, and love that we, the class of 1976, dedicate the '76 BULLDOG to our teacher, our sponsor, but most of all, our friend . . .

. . . Mrs. Peggie Lyons

1976 at Fairdale...

. . . a year for busing . In the pre-dawn hours of September 4, 1975, Jefferson County Police tensely awaited the arrival of the buses which would bring about court-ordered desegregation at Fairdale High School. The eyes of the nation were focused upon us through the intense coverage of the various media.

Fairdale administrators, faculty, and students peered anxiously as the first bus arrived from Shawnee.

A boycott called by several groups of concerned parents cut school attendance drastically, leaving near vacant parking lots and unused buses. Empty classrooms gave teachers an opportunity to gather in the cafeteria while the voices of the few students who came echoed down empty halls. Outside the school groups of parents and students prodded passing cars to honk. As a result, Governor Julian Carroll paid a surprise visit to Famidale to get a firsthand report from students and teachers. . . boycotting.

. . . a year for faces . . .

. . . both new and old . . .

. . . a year for spirit . . .

. . . a year for making friends . . .

Clara, Jaquita, Yolanda and Denise . . . Rodney, Kim and Danny . . . Jo and Cheryl . . . the Priddy family

Remember when Charmaine bumped to the sounds of the Navy Jazz Band

. . . and when we won the WAKY School Spirit Contest and a concert by Munch

, , , and when Ronnie Beasley and David DeBerry led us in what became the team's theme song, "We are the Bulldogs, the mighty, mighty Bulldogs"2

. . . and memories

. . . a good year . . .

. . a year worth remembering.

This page is left in grateful memory of Norma Judd, who gave much over many years to the students of Fairdale High School. Fairdale High School first opened its doors in the fall of 1958. In that first year thirty-two teachers taught sixhundred and forty students. Since that time its enrollment has grown to more than two thousand students and over one hundred teachers.

The campus itself has experienced change too, with the addition of a new gym — the Harry K. Hardin Athletic Center and a T.V. auditorium, and the construction of a vocational school that provides students with a variety of opportunities to acquire technical skills.

In 1972 Fairdale, along with the other county schools, began implementation of the Elective Quarter Plan. This school year saw the merger of the county and city systems, becoming the ninth largest public school system in the nation.

In the eighteen years of Fairdale High School's existence, over three thousand students have concaded their high school years by same if the Alma Mater

Hail to thee our A.ma Mater
Hail to thee Fainfale
Time will not crode the dreams
We built at old Fainfale
Dauntless now we face the morrow.
Proudly say farewell
Ours is not to fear or wonder
Hail to thee Fairfale

May our friendships never weaken,
A.ways proud and strong
When in time our duty calls,
We'll answer with thy song
Now the toll of time is telling
All good friends must part.
We'll unite no more in class,
But ever more in heart

The Bulldogs give Fairdale their best record ever. . .

After two disappointing seasons, the Bulldogs turned it around in '75 by playing their finest season ever. Undefeated after four games, they were ranked number one in State AAAA. They finished the regular season with an 8 and 3 record, taking the District in a playoff win over Durrett. Dreams of a state championship were shattered, however, in an overtime loss to Jeffersontown in the first round of the County playoffs. The Fairdale Bulldogs ended the season with a tenth place ranking, having led Jefferson County in total points scored.

Fairdale stomps Stuart!!!

On a foggy November night, the Bulldogs met the Stuart Spartans on their field in a game whose outcome would determine which teams would compete for the District
Championship, By the end of the first half the Bulldogs led by a 39-0 margin. During the second half, the varsity starters remained on the sidelines to prevent injuries while the remainder of the team kept Stuart scoreless. This win qualified the Bulldogs to meet the Durrett Demons at Manual Stadium. That same afternoon Durrett had defeated the Southern Trojans and advanced to the County Regionals. The winner of the Durrett Fairdale game would play the Jeffersontown Chargers for the County Championship

Six Point City!

Fairdale squared off against Durrett at Manual Stadium in a game to determine the District Three title. The Bulldogs jumped into the lead, scoring three quick TD'S. Durrett scored twice in the second quarter, but their drive to the title was repelled by two more Fairdale touchdowns. In a last ditch effort late in the fourth quarter, the Demons attempted a trick play, the Lonesome Polecat, only to have their pass picked off by D-Back Rick Deaton. The Bulldogs defeated the Demons 27-21 and advanced to the Regional playoffs where they would meet an old adversary, the Jeffersontown Chargers

1976 Bulldog Staff

The BULLDOG staff is open to interested students from ninth through twelfth grades who can elect to take the yearbook course and who are willing to devote many after-school hours to the compilation of the book Planning for the upcoming yearbook begins during the spring quarter when the cover, end sheets, and theme are selected, but the actual work starts when school opens in the fall and continues steadily through the end of the winter quarter when, with a loud sign of relief, the staff mails off the final

Even though getting a yearbook together is a hard job, the staff finds the hardest job of all is awaiting the arrival of the finished product sometime in early May

Organized chaos is typical'

A new format and a return to an old name characterize the 1975-76 school magazine, the FAIRDALE BULLDOG MAGAZINE.

Other changes that took place include a division of the junior and senior high staffs, recruiting of staff members through the introductory journalism class, and training of editors at a high school journalism conference at Indiana University in October and at monthly Greater Louisville High School Press Association meetings.

In November the staff took on the broadcasting of a daily morning "radio" show, WFHS, which featured music, school news, and interviews. Jeff Carter, sophomore, edited and announced the show

Junior Achievement

Junior Achievement allows students the opportunity to learn about the free-enterprise system through the construction of small-scale companies. Officers are elected, a board of directors is appointed, and a product is chosen for manufacture. Stock is then sold to interested individuals and production lines are set up. The finished product is sold at JA Trade Fairs. The companies are dissolved at the end of the year

DECA identifies the program of youth activity relating to DE — Distributive Education Clubs of America — and is designed to develop future leaders of marketing and distribution

DECA is the only national youth organization operating in the nation's schools to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution

Our purposes are: (1) to develop a respect for education in marketing and distribution which will contribute to occupational competence, and (2) to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system

The Fairdale DECA chapter participates in the Regional Career Development Contest and the State C.D.C. There are around 33 different contest areas. State winners of contests sponsored by National DECA go on to the National C.D.C. and compete for top student in that area.

This year we have taken a turn toward the relations between the old and new students. Many of the members attended workshop meetings to learn how to han dle certain situations and to be a leader

We once again had the Student Exchange with other schools to better school relations. During the Christmas season, we made the food baskets and delivered them to families in need

Though we haven't been able to accomplish all we have wanted to, we feel that we have helped this school year go along smoothly

Fairdale High School P.T.A.

The Firdale High School P.T.A. meets four times yearly. In October an Open House is held while the December meeting is a concert presented by the choir and band in celebration of Christmas.

Sponsoring the P.T.A. Calendar Girl Contest as a money-making venture allows the P.T.A. to contribute a fund for needy students and to award scholarships to two outstanding seniors each spring.

Services provided by the P.T.A. include administering hearing tests to junior high students and showing the cancer film to senior girls
